

Liposomal Cat's Claw Synergy

Highly Bioavailable Immune-supportive Formula with Monolaurin*

IMMUNE HEALTH*

Liposomal Cat's Claw Synergy delivers a unique proprietary blend of ingredients to support immune balance and a healthy microbial environment, featuring cat's claw, monolaurin, lemon balm extract, and mint and rose oils.* Each 2-pump serving also provides 25 mcg (1,000 IU) of vitamin D (as cholecalciferol), which is well-known for its role in supporting immune system development and function.*

Uncaria tomentosa, more commonly known as cat's claw, is a woody vine indigenous to the Amazon rain forest and other tropical areas of South America that has been used for centuries to support a healthy inflammatory response and promote immune system function.* Modern research shows that cat's claw contains a host of bioactive plant chemicals (phytonutrients) that support a balanced microbial environment, immune health, and antioxidant status.* Monolaurin is derived from lauric acid, primarily found in coconut fat and human breast milk. Monolaurin has also been shown in research to promote immune function and microbial balance.*

This product is formulated using liposomal technology, which helps facilitate the delivery of nutrients inside cells to targeted tissues, enhancing bioavailability and absorption. Liposomes are spheres made of phospholipids — the same primary building blocks of cell membranes in the body. Owing to this structure, liposomes bond easily with the outer cell membranes to deliver their nutrient cargo (in this case cat's claw extract, monolaurin, and other botanicals). Liposomes are extremely tiny particles that allow for rapid absorption, starting in the mouth, which then circulate longer throughout the body to support nutrient delivery.

Benefits*

- Promotes a balanced immune system
- Supports antioxidant status
- Promotes a healthy inflammatory response
- Supports a healthy microbial environment
