

Migranol™

Herbal Support*

STRESS/MOOD*

Migranol™ provides a synergistic combination of botanical extracts, magnesium, and riboflavin (vitamin B2) to support brain health and a healthy response to stress.* This formula contains clinically relevant amounts of feverfew, rosemary extract, and a blend of three powerful curcuminoids (curcumin, bisdemethoxycurcumin, and demethoxycurcumin) to promote a healthy inflammatory response.*

Feverfew (Tanacetum parthenium) is a botanical that has been shown to support brain health and a healthy inflammatory response.* It may also help support the body's normal pain responses.* Curcumin and its relatives curcuminoids are derived from turmeric (Curcuma longa), which is used for its health-promoting properties and as a spice. In addition to helping promote a healthy inflammatory response in the body and brain, curcuminoids may also support antioxidative status, helping protect tissues from oxidative stress.

Riboflavin may help support normal physiological responses and the body's normal response to discomfort.* Magnesium plays a fundamental role in muscle health supporting the function and relaxation of muscles.* Rosemary extract may help support brain health and a healthy inflammatory response.*
